-- SEE OFFICE ACTION ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES --

1. The following is a quotation of section (a) of 37 CFR 1.163:

“(a) The specification must contain as full and complete a disclosure as possible of the plant and the characteristics thereof that distinguish the same over related known varieties and its antecedents, and must particularly point out where and in what manner the variety of plant has been asexually reproduced. In the case of a newly found plant, the specification must particularly point out the location and character of the area where the plant was discovered.”

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

“The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor in carrying out his invention.”

In plant applications filed under 36 U.S.C. 161, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are limited. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 162:

“No plant patent shall be declared invalid for noncompliance with section 112 of this title if the description is as complete as is reasonably possible. The claim in the specification shall be in formal terms to the plant shown and described.”

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

“The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which applicant regards as his invention.”

As specific to United States Plant Patent applications, the specifics of 37 CFR 1.164 (reproduced below) are controlling:

“The claim shall be in formal terms to the new and distinct variety of the specified plant as described and illustrated, and may also recite the principal distinguishing characteristics. More than one claim is not permitted.”

The disclosure is objected to under 37 CFR 1.163(a) and under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification presents less than a full, clear, and complete botanical description of the plant and the characteristics which define same per se, and which distinguish same over related or similar known varieties and antecedents.

A. The Genus/species designation of the instant cultivar must be set forth in the specification (assumedly such is Rosa hybrida). Applicant's addition of the family name Rosaceae is per se acceptable for what it shows, but needs to be properly depicted as such rather than improperly as a Genus as is currently the case in the specification (see 1B of the previous Office action).

B. Relative to the recitation at lines 24-26 of the substitute specification, such should be amended to more accurately account for the expression of the plant, particularly as a three leaflet leaf is illustrated (see 1E of the previous Office action). Additionally, the newly presented language presented is cumbersome at best, and should be amended so that it is clear that such is in reference to the number of leaflets typically/characteristically present per compound leaf, and so that such properly accounts for the characteristic expression of the plant.

C. The language present at lines 17-18 of page 6 (shape and arrangement of the petals) should be deleted given the new recitations at lines 25-27 of page 5.

D. The specification should include some mention as to relative thorn/prickle quantity and coloration thereof (see 1K of the previous Office action).

E. The section of the specification dealing with reproductive organs should be reorganized so that such reads correctly. For example, see the heading which appears at lines 22-23 of page 6, and the description thereof which appears also at lines 22-23 of page 6. The latter obviously should be moved to begin at line 23 rather than line 22.

F. In the previous Office action (see 1M), the examiner asked for additional information relative to the cultivar's observed and characteristic disease resistance, such being particularly germane as the cultivar looks to be a garden or landscape hybrid tea cultivar and as applicant's specification specifically recites botanical characteristics of the plant as grown outdoors in Wasco, California. Responsive thereto, applicant has come forth with no additional information. If additional information is now available relative to disease resistance/susceptibility at the specified location of culture, such should be accounted for in the specification in the interest of providing as complete a botanical description of the plant as is reasonably possible.

2. The claim is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraphs, as not being supported by a clear and complete botanical description of the plant, for the reasons advanced in paragraph 1 above.

3. The drawings/photographic illustrations remain objected to for the reasons set forth in paragraph 3 of the previous Office action. Applicant has not submitted new drawings/illustrations, and has not offered explanation or argument relative to the outstanding issues re same.

4. The claim remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as not being supported by artistically and/or competently executed drawings/photographic illustrations for the reasons advanced in paragraph 3 above.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

6. Applicant is advised of the new mandatory procedures for amending the specification and claim under 37 CFR 1.121. Applicant may review same on the internet at the following site:
